NUTRITION AND YOU...DARK GREENS- KALE AND SWISS CHARD

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Kale and Swiss chard are dark, leafy greens. Chard has a mild, sweet, yet slightly bitter flavor while kale has a mild cabbage-like taste. Kale is an excellent addition to a vegetable garden because it can grow in colder climates and it can even withstand frost! Other types of vegetables in this category include collard greens and mustard greens.

SHOP SMART

Dark greens are available year round, with the exception of chard, which is in season from April to November. When you choose greens, look for fresh, bright color. Leaves should not be yellow or brown, dry or wilted, and they should not have small holes—this could be a sign of insect damage. Greens are delicious eaten raw or cooked. Choose small-leaved plants for the mildest flavor, especially if you plan to eat them raw.

EAT HEALTHY

Dark Greens are:

- Low in calories
- Cholesterol free
- An excellent source of vitamin A
- An excellent source of vitamin C

KEEP IT SAFE

These food safety tips will help protect you and your family:

- Wash hands for 20 seconds with warm water and soap before and after preparing food.
- Wash dark greens under cool, running water before eating or cooking them,
- Wrap dark greens in a damp paper towel and place in a plastic bag in the refrigerator until you are ready to use them.
- Dark greens will stay fresh in the refrigerator for 3-5 days.

Note: 1 cup cooked or 2 cups raw greens provide one cup of your daily vegetable requirement.

You can find locally grown greens at the Toledo Farmer's Market. During the summer, the market is open on Saturdays from 8:00am-2:00pm at 525 Market Street, Toledo, Ohio. SNAP EBT users can use their card to purchase fresh fruits and vegetables at the market. Ask about the Produce Perks Program, where you can get matching dollars for your produce purchase. FREE fruits and vegetables!
