OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION IN LUCAS COUNTY PRESENTS

GARDEN WALKS AT TOLEDO BOTANICAL GARDEN

Can you identify a plant just by its leaves, flowers or berries? Do you want to discover colorful displays, alluring fragrances, or catch inspiration from nature in our area?

If so, you're invited to discover the beauty of the Toledo Botanical Garden. Whether you're an avid gardener, new to the hobby, or want to learn more about nature—join OSU Extension Agriculture and Natural Resources Educator, Amy Stone, and Metropark Toledo horticulturalists, as they guide a walking tour around the Toledo Botanical Garden to identify and learn about the plants and trees that call the Garden—home.

The Garden Walks at Toledo Botanical Garden are free and open to the public, plus no pre-registration is needed. Please wear comfortable footwear, dress for the weather, and bring your curiosity and questions!
